

Know the Difference Between CCM[®], CACM, and PMP[®]

vs.

WHAT IS IT? The CCM is administered by the Construction Management Association International (CMAA) and is a certification for construction management professionals. It is a globally recognized credential that demonstrates a professional's ability to manage construction projects effectively. The CCM is a certification for construction management professionals, administered by the Construction Management Association International (CMAA). It is a globally recognized credential that demonstrates a professional's ability to manage construction projects effectively. The CCM is a certification for construction management professionals, administered by the Construction Management Association International (CMAA). It is a globally recognized credential that demonstrates a professional's ability to manage construction projects effectively.

vs.

